Whether you are recruiting for a Fortune 500 company, an early-stage start-up, or an organization on the other side of the globe, the University of Tennessee’s full-service Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations takes a personalized approach to helping you recruit on campus. Just as every company is unique, your recruiting strategy should be, too.

There are many ways to connect with UT MBA students. In addition to visiting campus to deliver presentations and interview students, companies can participate in receptions, conferences and career fairs, host company site visits, and collaborate with UT MBA student clubs. The Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations is eager to provide you with opportunities to connect with our students.

UT MBA students are a diverse group of exceptional men and women interested in a variety of opportunities around the globe. From day one, they are dedicated to making an impact in your organization and in the broader community. Employers find that our students have a strong work ethic, excellent communication and analytical skills, the ability to work in teams, and a willingness to relocate.

Typically, UT MBA students graduate in December of each year, but dual-degree students (such as JD/MBA, MBA/MS Engineering, MBA/MS Business Analytics) graduate in May of the following year. Each of our MBA students are required to have a summer internship to gain the skills necessary for success post-graduation.

In this handbook, you will learn about ways to get involved with the UT MBA program, the UT MBA internship program, and salary statistics of 2013 graduates. If you are interested in recruiting future leaders for your organization, the Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations can assist you with a variety of opportunities to discover talent, develop your on-campus brand, and successfully place UT MBA students with your company. Contact us to plan an effective recruiting strategy to reach our MBAs.

Sincerely,

MOLLY KINARD
Director, Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations
WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

A hallmark of the Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations is our robust offering of employer-involvement opportunities that allow your company to meet our students and successfully market your organization. We can help you determine a strategy that best meets your needs and can customize a recruiting plan for your company. Each year, many new employers set out to attract students to work for their companies in internship and full-time roles. Over the years, we have found that there are some sure-fire ways to increase the size of your applicant pool and build your reputation as an “Employer of Choice” for UT MBAs.

Below, you will learn about ways to create your on-campus, off-site, or virtual presence. We look forward to working with you and stand ready to support you as partners in success.

MBA JOB & INTERNSHIP FAIR

Every September, the Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations hosts a job and internship fair for MBA students and employers. This event offers employers two key opportunities:

1. identifying December and May graduates for full-time positions
2. evaluating first-year MBA students for internships.

This event usually draws about 30 employers and is an intimate venue for meeting students.

ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS

Interviewing students on campus is an efficient way to identify talent for your company. On-campus interviewing for full-time positions officially begins on the first Monday in October. However, interviews may also be scheduled immediately after the annual MBA Job & Internship Fair.

RECRUIT EARLY

Employers extend offers late October through early December to avoid losing first-choice candidates to competitors. On-campus interviewing officially begins on the first Monday in October. However, interviews may also be scheduled for the day immediately after the annual MBA Job & Internship Fair in September.

Recruiting for interns can begin as early as fall semester, but most employers choose to interview candidates during spring semester, starting early February and concluding at the end of April. Please contact the Office of MBA Career Management & Alumni Relations to set up an on-campus recruiting date.

COMPANY INFORMATION SESSIONS

Build your on-campus presence by hosting a one-hour information session for UT MBA students. These seminar-style discussions usually focus on the nature of your company, industry, and positions, and are an effective way to generate interest in your organization. Students are eager to learn more about the operations of local and national companies and to interact with someone who can share a first-person view of an industry.

SUMMER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The UT MBA internship program is an affordable way to bring additional mindshare and skill to your organization. Summer internships also serve as efficient, low-risk training and evaluation opportunities and give you a chance to preview potential long-term hires.

UT MBA students have an average of three years of professional experience and the aptitude, maturity, and academic preparation to immediately make productive contributions to your projects or research needs. Our interns are independent yet team-oriented professionals who think creatively and strategically, and have well-developed technical skills.

Internships offer an exciting opportunity for MBAs to gain hands-on experience in their area of study under the supervision of experienced managers. Internships are structured for a period of 10 weeks (or longer, by agreement between student and company), and students are expected to work full-time and on-site for the duration of the internship.

“My summer internship was at a very small organization in Cape Town, South Africa. The internship was an amazing experience because I was able to take all of that working knowledge from the classroom and actually apply it, which really drove home the value of my MBA degree.”

“I think that because the job market is so competitive now, recruiters and employers are looking for higher level talent for their companies. Therefore, having an MBA really opens up a lot more opportunities than one would have without an MBA. MBA Career Management has opened up a lot of doors for me in regards to networking; the degree has certainly helped in a networking aspect probably more than anything else.”
